Classes Entered: 1950-59 Lightweight Overseas
Bike Details: First registered on 9th April 1959 to a Mr Hugh McKellar of Chiswick London, it was passed down to his two brothers and a cousin before being laid up in a garage in 1965 with 9,000 miles on the speedometer. The scooter was swapped in a deal with my brother in 1971 for the princely sum of £2. My brother never actually used the scooter which moved house with him three times until in December 2007, after years of persuasion, I was allowed to take ownership, on the conditions that I restored the vehicle to as original condition and did not sell it on. The scooter, when acquired, was hand painted grey so was fully stripped to bare metal and rebuilt and restored using as many original parts as possible by myself over the next 14 months. I collected a fresh M.O.T and returned 605 JPF to the road on May 2009 almost exactly 50 years after its first registration. I have the original buff logbook and after presenting a case to the Licensing department in Maidstone, was able to keep the original registration but, despite enquiries, have yet been unable to trace any of the original owners. 605 JPF now has a leisurely existence, coming out only on sunny days and Sundays, although it gets an annual weeks outing to the Lambretta Owners Club rally on the Isle of Wight each August

Classes Entered: 1970 On Overseas
Bike Details: This model was part of a series of twins dating back to 1960, initially produced by the Meguro Motorcycle Company of Japan who subsequently merged with Kawasaki. The ancestry is obviously British, specifically the BSA A7 & A10. There are countless design differences within the engine, for example this is a short-stroke motor whilst the A10 is long-stroke, but the outline is undeniably BSA. Very few W1s were officially imported to the UK and the bike was not a great sales success in the USA either, despite it being the largest capacity Japanese motorcycle available for foreign markets at the time. The bike is an ongoing restoration; parts can be very difficult to find, but it gets used regularly and is surprisingly smooth and enjoyable to ride.
